

HQ ENGINEERING AND CONSTRUCTION DIVISIONS CONSOLIDATION

As you may have already heard, as of 1 October 1997, Construction Division and Engineering Division at HQ were consolidated. The organizational chart shown below provides details of the new structure.

The "old" Construction Division became Construction and Design Branch with Jim Lovo as the acting chief. Jim Jones was reassigned from the deputy chief of Construction Division to the deputy chief of the consolidated Engineering and Construction Division.

The Branch is divided into three teams: 1) Policy Formulation Team, 2) Installation and Management Support Team, and 3) Construction and Design Evaluation Team. The team members, and their telephone numbers are as follows:

Although the structure may have changed our commitment to you has not. In fact, with the assumption of overall policy for construction and design and the responsibility for fully coordinating and reviewing policy within the Division - the new Construction and Design Branch will enhance the Division's ability to provide you more uniform and consistent direction and guidance.
